The Rule of Law

The government facade is slowly unravelling
Spurred on by the scandal of SNC-Lavalin.
Jody Wilson's demoted she would not play ball,
Pleading no comment, she will not take the fall.
New laws are designed by our political pranksters
With the aim of protecting the corporate gangsters
They claim they're preserving thousands of jobs
They don't really care who's pocket they rob.
Forgive them their crimes and we will all pay
Their games of chance they'll continue to play.
And so it goes on, this political circus
Behind every act there is an ulterior purpose.
Jobs, jobs, jobs is their favourite chant
They lull us to oblivion with their rhetorical rants.
Inquiries, questions, charges and trials
Elections, directions, deflections, denials.
The Lavalin scandal will run it's full course
And fade from the news with no change or remorse,
The rule of law is flouted and touted
Democracies despots will never be outed.

An Update from BC Ferries

Dear Campbell River Terminal Ferry Travellers,

I'm Mitchell Jacobson, with the Terminal Development team at BC Ferries. I'd like to keep you informed and up-to-date on what's happening with the Campbell River ferry terminal.

What's happened so far

In July 2018, our Terminal Development team, along with key staff from various departments at BC Ferries, began a long-term plan and vision for this important terminal. This planning initiative will help BC Ferries develop this terminal in a cost-effective, phased and efficient way over the next 25 years.

In October, we engaged with customers and the community so we could better understand any key issues and opportunities for the terminal. We heard from the community (ferry users and terminal neighbours), the Ferry Advisory Committee (FAC) for Campbell River, Quadra Island and Cortes Island, government stakeholders, First Nations and employees.

We are gearing up for our next engagement

We took the feedback we received and created some draft concepts we now want to share with you. We will be holding two drop-in information sessions in the community.

When	Where
Tuesday, February 26 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.	Waiting Room, Campbell River terminal 1001 Island Hwy, Campbell River
Wednesday, February 27 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.	Quadra Island Community Centre 970 West Rd, Quadra Island

For those who can't attend in person, we will post the draft concepts on our website by February 25, along with some opportunities to collect your feedback online. Please let us know your thoughts by completing the online portion between February 25 and March 15, or by sending us your comments at tdpinfo@bcferries.com.

For more information on the upcoming engagement opportunities, please visit the Campbell River terminal project page on bcferries.com/about/terminal-development-planning.

What's next

Following our presentation of the draft concepts on February 26 and 27, we will take the feedback we receive from the drop-in sessions, the online survey, your emails, and the community input we received earlier, and post a summary on our website for your review.

The next step in our terminal development process is to create a preferred design that meets the needs of ferry travellers and the community, as well as our operational needs. We expect to have a preferred option drafted by the spring and will post it online for you to see once it's ready.

We look forward to hearing from you. If you have any questions about the project, please don't hesitate to contact me directly at mitchell.jacobson@bcferries.com.

Thanks for reading,

Mitchell Jacobson

COMMUNITY NEWS & EVENTS

CAN YOU HELP PLEASE?

Hospital inpatients are a captive audience for the hospital catering service. They depend entirely for food served to them by the hospital. As it is an integral part of the hospital care, so it is essential that patients can trust that, the hospital provides harmless, appropriate food.

Hospitalized patients are sick, bewildered and want to be compliant. It is not surprising that they do not complain, or know how to complain and to whom to complain. It is neither them attendant nurses nor the medical staff's role to supervise the each meal served to inpatients.

In my case meals suitable for diabetics had been prescribed at the time of admission, and the meals were labeled by the kitchen as diabetic food, but I believe were not. They were very high in sugars and bad carbohydrates.

I complained to various organizations and the politicians, professional bodies like the Collage of Dieticians etc. The Patient Care Quality Review Boards accepted my complaint for review, but I have only the photos of the questionable meals served to me. It would help if I had more photos and description of meals served to diabetics in BC hospitals. It is under what I believe a erroneous and undeclared deviation from standard diabetic menus called liberalized diet. It allows sugary drinks like that.

Friday Flicks

The Silent Revolution

(Das schweigende Klassenzimmer)

German, Russian w/ English subtitles

On February 15, 7:45 at Quadra Community Centre, Friday Flicks presents The Silent Revolution.

In 1956 East Germany, a group of senior high schoolers demonstrate solidarity with recent victims of the Hungarian Revolution. Their brief, silent protest ignites underlying tensions and leads to grave consequences.

Lars Kraume examines a fascinating moment in German history, just a few years before the construction of the Berlin Wall begins, with this film based on the true story of a high-school classroom that becomes the site of a political battle of wills. When Kurt and Theo sneak into a West German cinema and catch the pre-feature newsreel, they see a very different depiction of the uprising in Budapest than what they've heard at home, in the East German town of Stalinstadt. The young men return home inspired at the thought of an idealistic revolution.

After debating with their classmates about the virtues of the Hungarian uprising, Kurt and Theo persuade a majority of their peers to join them in a two-minute observation of silence during class, in solidarity with those killed in the struggle. Their teacher is shocked and confused, and reports the incident to the principal, Direktor Schwarz. Despite trying to contain the situation, Schwarz can't keep his bosses from hearing of the political protest. As the story spreads through the upper levels of the administration, the students slowly realize the growing gravity of their situation.

Deftly weaving together threads of political tension, adolescent rebellion, and institutional menace, Kraume asks us to consider the connection between a nation's identity and its influence on the identities of its young people, who are just beginning to question their place in society.

Anthropocene: The Human Epoch

ANTHROPOCENE: The Human Epoch is the third collaboration between award-winning photographer Edward Burtynsky and acclaimed filmmakers Jennifer Baichwal and Nicholas de Pencier following Manufactured Landscapes and Watermark. In breathtaking tableaux, their latest documentary continues their exploration of industrialization and extraction in astonishing scale and perspective.

In recent years, some scientists have argued that the Holocene Epoch — the nearly 12,000-year period since the last Ice Age — has ended, and we have now entered into the Anthropocene Epoch. The new label reflects the dominance of humans on the planet, causing mass extinction and climate change and altering the Earth more than all natural processes combined.

Spanning numerous countries, the film reveals in stunning images how our mania for conquest defines our relationship to the Earth — and how we have created a global epidemic. In Kenya, mounds of elephant tusks burn in a devastating display of the impact of poaching (chillingly reminiscent of the bison skulls that were piled high in the clearing of the Canadian plains for settlement). In Russia and Germany, mining operations transform terrains into otherworldly industrial wastelands as hypnotic, colossal, lifelike machines endlessly extract on an unfathomable scale. ANTHROPOCENE: The Human Epoch is a mesmerizing and disturbing rumination on what drives us as a species, and a call to wake up to the destruction caused by our dominance. These startling dystopian visions are not future projections; they reflect a reality that is already here, and if we are to change course, the first step will be a revolutionary shift in consciousness.

"To say that there are no easy answers to planetary woes is to state the obvious. But the film seeks to reveal rather than lecture, in the hope that our eyes will convince our brains to act before it's too late." —Peter Howell, Toronto Star

Duo Fortin-Poirier on February 23

QUADRA CULTURAL EVENTS is very pleased to present Duo Fortin-Poirier with their new concert program Mémoires on Saturday, February 23, 2019 at 7:30 at the Quadra Island Community Centre.

Duo Fortin-Poirier is made up of pianists Amélie Fortin and Marie-Christine Poirier, who have distinguished themselves with their fiery four-hand interpretations, their vitality and their wit. A close affinity between their playing styles along with a sharp, shared sensitivity fuels their extraordinary ensemble playing.

Amélie Fortin and Marie-Christine Poirier

Since their inception in 2005, Duo Fortin-Poirier have made waves both in Canada and abroad, garnering scholarships, prizes, and other distinctions (1st prize the Canadian Music Competition; 2nd Prize at the 2013 Concorso Pianistico Internazionale Roma; finalists at the 2009 Concours international de piano à quatre mains de Valberg and the 2011 Liszt 200 Chicago International Duo Piano Competition; Special Jury Mention at the 2010 International Edvard Grieg Piano Competition; and scholarships from the arts councils of Québec and Canada).

Very active on the North American scene, in 2008 they premiered Vingt Doigts et un Piano, the first classical concert to be chosen for Loto-Québec's Entrées en Scène. Recently, the duo also performed at the 2015 Festival de Lanaudière, toured the Maritimes with Debut Atlantic in 2017, and presented their new concert Mémoires as part of a tour with Prairie Debut in 2016-17. Since then, they have undertaken an extensive tour in the western United States.

Mémoires, features works for one piano, four hands from across the classical, tango and ragtime genres. Exploring the theme of memories, the program weaves between the intensity of Piazzolla's tangos, the lyricism of Rachmaninov, and the liveliness of Samuel Barber. Mémoires is a concert that blends hard-driving rhythm and sweet nostalgia. You will be impressed by the choreography of the four hands. But most of all, you will be moved and delighted by the intensity of the piano artistry and the complicity between Amélie Fortin and Marie-Christine Poirier.

Advance tickets are available for $17 at Inspirations, Work of H'Art, The Music Plant and online at Tidemark Theatre. Tickets will be available at the door for $20. Students 16 and under will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

COMMUNITY NEWS & EVENTS

Greetings from the Philippines!

The following is a letter from Zeah Mae Paclay, one of the 2 girls that Quadra is sponsoring in the village of Cataw through IAT's Gift of Peace Program. This is a January letter, keeping in mind that our correspondence from Tabuk in the northern Philippines still comes in batches through snail mail!

Dear Sponsors of Quadra Island community,
 Every year is a new blessing for us. A new year is blossom in our lives and it is worth celebrating. It is known that January 1st is a common, important celebration all around the world. So here I am wishing you all the joy of the year. I hope you are all in good condition. Happy New Year!

December to me is the most romantic month of the year for several reasons that I would like to tell you about. I love the holiday season! I feel boundless awakening mixed with emotional wonderment. The spirit of giving and my family togetherness makes my heart sing. Learning the value of giving and the enjoyment of sharing. As usual, I spent my Christmas vacation with my family. During the Christmas Eve, my mother made some simple food like sticky rice that was really good! Of course Christmas is insignificant without going to church. So all of us, my family and I went together.

The new year is celebrated all over the world with great enthusiasm and fun. Carciv was a Roman calendar which had only 10 months and designated March 1 as the new year. In the Gregorian calendar, there are 12 months every year and the new year falls on January 1st which is a widely accepted and celebrated festival. That is a day when we recall all the good and bad memories of the whole year and say good-bye to the going year and welcome in the new year. We celebrated this day with music and dance and were very happy to have good food to enjoy the new year. Celebrating in this way with my family is enough for me. It was great!

Before I end my letter, I just wanted to thank you for the Christmas cash gift that I received. It will be a great help for our family needs. Thank you so much!!! I was able to buy a blue t-shirt and shoes that I am wearing now. My mother is planning to use the rest to buy a sack of rice as well as basic groceries.

May the year bring happiness, new goals, new achievements and a lot of new inspirations in your life. Wishing you a year filled with much happiness!

Sierra Quadra Presents: Jackie Hildering Feb 16

THE MARINE DETECTIVE

From nudibranchs to humpback whales, from sea star wasting syndrome to climate change, Jackie Hildering will take us below the surface of our dark ocean to shine a light on the beauty and fragility living there. Her hope is that the presentation will provide Quadra Islanders with an even greater understanding of, and connection to, the NE Pacific Ocean.

You may recall that Jackie has presented twice before for Sierra Quadra. It is anticipated that this will again lead to a packed house, with many drawn to Jackie's knowledge, humour and ability to inspire.

Jackie is known as "The Marine Detective". She is an underwater photographer, marine educator, humpback researcher and cofounder of the Marine Education and Research Society.

Recent recognition includes her website received the 2018 Science Writers and Communicators of Canada People's Choice Award for best Canadian Website. On camera experience includes a variety for science documentaries for the BBC, PBS and Animal Planet.
