I S L A N D E R

JUST BEFORE THE GOVERNMENT

'FISH WINDOW' – the period allowed for working within salmon streams – closed on September 15, the Quadra Island Salmon Enhancement Society rented a 'rock slinger' from Al & Sons Trucking in Campbell River to place spawning gravel into several streams on Quadra Island.

Targets for throwing included two sites on upper Granite Creek and two at Mud Lake, on upper Hyacinthe Creek. The object of the exercise was to enhance spawning gravel conditions at these sites by augmenting the amounts of gravel present. Several yards were shot at each site using the truck's variable speed conveyor belt. Accurate throwing landed the gravel just where it was needed with the added bonus of not having to hand shovel. Ya gotta love modern technology!

QISES will now monitor the areas this fall to assess the results of the new gravel placement.

Global Climate Strike on Friday September 20, Spirit Square

THE CLIMATE CRISIS IN AN EMERGENCY and governments must be persuaded to act to transition our economies from fossil fuel.

The most recent report from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change tells us we have only a few years to make this transition before global temperatures exceed the relative safety of 1.5 degrees C. Even a 2 degree C difference will bring significantly worse impacts. We are already living with 1 degree of warming.

The effects of climate change have been dramatic and will become much more so. Many of these consequences have been happening considerably sooner than previously predicted. The Arctic permafrost is melting at levels not expected until 2090.

Fires in Siberia have burned 2.6 million hectares of forest this summer and there are thousands of fires in the Amazon. On Greenland 197 billion tones of ice have melted into the North Atlantic in July alone.

Campbell River and the Discovery Islands are not immune. Just a few days ago, pumping began from Lake Cowichan into the river to keep it flowing. There are water shortages on Salt Spring Island where the two main lakes from which freshwater is drawn have dried up. Like Quadra, all Salt Spring's water comes from rain.

We are now experiencing the sixth mass extinction of species with populations of wild animals halved since 1970.

Do we need more proof that we are in the midst of a climate crisis?

Swedish student Greta Thunberg started her own climate strike when she began sitting outside the Swedish Parliament every Friday, trying to raise awareness about the seriousness of the problems the world faces. Her message has ignited student rallies around the world and is the genesis of the Global Climate Strike Sept 20-27 (globalclimatestrike.net).

The Canadian government has not lived up to commitments made to the Paris Climate Agreement and is still subsidizing the fossil fuel industry to the tune of $3.3 billion annually. It is promoting the completion of the Trans Mountain Pipeline which means an expansion of the Alberta tar sands along with all its other risks. Last year the BC government gave oil and gas companies $663 million in subsidies. That's $130 for every person in the province, most of this to promote the fracking of gas with its emissions of methane. Methane is the worst of greenhouse gases, 21 times worse than carbon dioxide.

If this makes you sick at heart or full of anger, join the Global Climate Strike Rally and March in Campbell River at Spirit Square on September 20, 12-2. Have faith that if enough of us demonstrate our fear for our future and that of all living things, we will see governments wake up and begin taking the action needed.

ISLAND FORUM

Quadrpalooza

I WAS DELIGHTED WITH my Quadrpalooza experience. Within the festival grounds there was a very friendly, respectful atmosphere. The variety of musical offerings was impressive; folk songs and ballads to a rocking brass band and an old time square dance group. A big thanks to all the dedicated locals who plan and work towards improving Quadrpalooza for next year.
– Meg Stewart

CONGRATS TO THE organizers of Quadrpalooza for another successful celebration of live music. The arrival of so many people puts a strain on ferry traffic, but what a delight to see people having so much fun enjoying music, vendor booths, and sharing their skills in workshops. Our two-year-granddaughter was especially keen on a square dancing set, with a fast talker caller named 'Thunder Pants.' And as neighbours to the Community Centre, we appreciate how quickly the grounds and roadside were cleaned up after the event.
– Jeanette Taylor

Quadra Island Fire Dept Report

AS THE SUMMER draws to a close, the Quadra Island Fire Department would like to thank all the residents and visitors to our Island for being fire smart with their campfires. The backyard burn ban remains in place; please check our website or Facebook page for regular updates for local bans.

Year to date the Fire Department attended to over 160 calls for service which is well above the average of previous years. These include fire investigations, medical calls, hydro troubles and structure fires.

The mornings are just a little darker and the evening light a bit shorter which means the season for wood stove warmth is just around the corner. Be sure to have your chimney checked and cleaned for good working order going into the fall.

The darkness also brings low visibility of pedestrians and cyclist on our roads for drivers. Be sure to wear reflective clothing and have good working lights to ensure you can be seen.

Quadra Island Fire Department is excited to partner with Cortes Island Fire Department, Cortes Market and Quadra Gas N Go to bring you pocket ashtrays. They are available at Quadra Gas N Go and Cortes Market.

Friday Flicks Returns September 13 with Woman at War

ICELAND/France/UKRAINE, 2018, Icelandic with English subtitles. As a follow-up to his 2013 film Of Horses and Men, director Benedikt Erlingsson delivers the Cannes 18 selection Woman at War, a timely film that speaks to social issues with wit and warmth.

Halla (Halldóra Geirharðsdóttir) is a middle-aged choir director in a small town, popular amongst her neighbors and respected in the community. Unbeknownst to her fellow citizens, she is also an environmentalist vigilante who destroys power lines in an effort to preserve the beautiful local countryside. Deep in the trenches of her anonymous battle against industrialist destruction, Halla depends on the few solitary sources of support in her life: her identical twin sister (also played by Geirharðsdóttir), a co-conspirator (Jorundur Ragnarsson) who keeps her updated on the movements of the government, and a mysterious local farmer (Jóhann Sigurðarson). Just as Halla begins to ramp up her anti-industrial campaign efforts, she receives entirely unexpected news: an application she made years ago to adopt a child from Ukraine has finally been approved, and she's about to become a mother.

Hakai Institute Presents

ICEFIELDS TO OCEAN: CLIMATE CHANGE & OUR SHRINKING COASTAL GLACIERS

at the Quadra Community Centre on Wednesday September 25, 2019, 7:30 to 8:30 (doors open at 7pm).

The Hakai Institute conducts science on BC's coast, working across the landscape from ocean to icefields. Hakai uses a range of tools—satellites, airborne surveys, drones, and ground truthing—to study the climatic changes to BC's glaciers and snow packs. The talk will include discussion of the system that begins on Quadra, then extends through the channels, up Bute Inlet, following the Homathko River to the snow and ice fields around Mount Waddington.

Meet Mark De Bruijn, Green MP Candidate

MARK DE BRUIJN is the Green Party's candidate for Member of Parliament from North Island-Powell River (NIPR). He came to Canada from Holland at age three and lived in Calgary before moving to BC where he has lived for most of his adult life. He received a BSc with high honours in Zoology from the U of Calgary.

A wide range of work and volunteer experiences has prepared Mark well to represent the people of NIPR. He has developed useful skills in finance, human resources and community building from working as a fish biologist, college and high school teacher and principal, general contractor, and healing program coordinator and volunteering on non-profit boards.

Mark has lived in the area of NIPR for over 20 years, on Cortes and in the Comox Valley, and his conviction that Green Party politics must play a strong role in Canada's future has deepened steadily. He and his wife Carol have played significant roles on the NIPR Greens Executive which has become a very strong campaign team, well positioned to ride the Green Wave that is sweeping up island from Elizabeth May's stronghold in Saanich-Gulf Islands.

There are signs across Canada, no doubt inspired by rising concern about rapid climate change, that Greens in many other places will also be elected in 2019. Mark's values and experience would make him an important part of the Green voice in Parliament, a voice committed to the six principles of social justice, ecological wisdom, non-violence, participatory democracy, sustainability and respect for diversity.

Mark will be returning to the Quadra Community Centre September 29th

4:30 to 6:30 to speak about his reasons for becoming a Green Party candidate in this election and to answer questions, especially from undecided voters. He knows there are many people who have traditionally voted for other parties who are considering a change now and young people who have never voted who are realizing their future is at stake. He'd like to hear from them all. For more information contact Michael Mascall 202-1968 or Susan Stratton susan@prairiesky.ca.

Farmers' Market and Bazaar

THE FARMERS' MARKET and Bazaar runs until September 21st, rain or shine. And so far it's shining yet again for a great Saturday of good music, handcrafted goods, early autumn produce, delicious baking, chocolates and gorgeous art. Hope to see you there 10 to 2 beside the Credit Union.

Fall Singers Session Begins

THE FALL QUADRA SINGERS sessions begins on Thursday September 12th. Practices happen each week on Thursdays from 6:45 to 9:15pm at the Quadra Island Community Centre. This fall we will be singing a selection of old and new favourites. It is a wonderful, supportive group and the ability to read music is not required. Choir Director Kate Alexandra inspires us all, and makes our practices lots of fun. Our accompanist Joyce Baker can play all four parts at once, and tries hard to help us learn. All voices are welcome to join us for an opportunity to sing, laugh, and learn. (We would especially welcome more Basses and Tenors, ages 16 plus.) Cost is $100 per session with family rates and bursaries available. Concert date is Friday December 13th. For more information contact Joan Varley at jvarley@xplornet.com Please consider coming to join us!

Raise your Voice in Glorious Song and Sing for Pure Joy!

WHEN YOU SING with a group of people, you learn to subsume yourself into a group consciousness because a cappella singing is all about the immersion of self into the Community. To stop being 'me' for a little while, and to become 'us.' For most of human history people sang together, and it wasn't seen as a competition; it was a joyful communal experience.

Sing for Pure Joy! is a safe, non-judgmental Song Circle where every voice is welcome. No experience needed – only the desire to make joyful sounds to help access the joy and beauty at our core. We are not a performing choir although we do S.W.A.T.S (Sing When Asked To) and S.W.I.T.S (Sing When Inspired To.)

We are not a paper-trained choir. No written music is used. All songs are taught in the traditional method of call and response. Raise your voice in splendid song with heart-felt melodies, soulful gospel songs and rousing spirituals, meditative chants, luscious layered songs and robust rounds from all around this glorious Earth! Songs from the sublime to the ridiculous!

Songs are led by Mary Dennison and Kate Alexandra. The Fall Term begins on Monday, September 16th and runs until December 16th. Room 3 from 1 – 2:30pm. Cost is $104 or $10 drop-in. Family member is half price. Sliding scale by request. For more info contact Mary at 250.202.1003 or singforpurejoy@gmail.com.

Krystle Dos Santos: Motown Soul Cabaret

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 2019 AT 7:30
QUADRA COMMUNITY CENTRE

Don't miss the start of our Cultural Events 2019/200 Season with Krystle Dos Santos: Motown Soul Cabaret!

Krystle Dos Santos is known for her powerful voice and her infectious warmth. Her live shows are intimate and otherworldly, pairing original soul music with beloved Motown and soul classics made famous by Nina Simone, Stevie Wonder, Aretha Franklin, Alicia Keys, Ms. Lauryn Hill, and Adele.

Krystle Dos Santos has taken her experience from the Canadian College of Performing Arts and transformed it into the beginnings of a career already full of achievements. Unveiling her talents to the public with her 2008 full-length self-titled debut, Dos Santos was instantly recognized as a force by the Western Canadian Music Awards, winning the Urban Recording of the Year.

But to simply classify Dos Santos as a recording artist would be neglecting one of the most intriguing aspects of her talents. Whether facing the crowd on her own or with her full ensemble of band mates as she is more accustomed, Dos Santos uses a sultry tone and eccentric array of melodies to create an intimately magnetic connection with her audience. She is able to further engage her audience by shifting seamlessly through genres, embodying her musical influences-Nina Simone, Etta James, Alicia Keys –culminating in a powerful live experience that fuses jazz, soul, pop, funk and blues into an arena of styles and sounds that takes listeners from mid-20th century Harlem right up to present day LA.

The Walker Family Erects a Headstone at the Heriot Bay Road Cemetery

JOY (WALKER) HUNTLEY AND HER DAUGHTERS Annie Rousseau, Lorraine Huntley, Kluane Bickerton and Irene Huntley gathered around a newly placed headstone at the Heriot Bay Road Cemetery last week to honour former residents Robert and Dora Walker.

Robert Walker and his first wife, Agnes, came to Quadra in 1893 as Methodist missionaries, at the request of Billy Assu, who wanted a school for the We Wai Kai children. The Walkers remained at the mission until 1904, when they bought a homestead in Gowlland Harbour, which they named Homewood after Walker's childhood farm in Ontario. A few years after his first wife died in 1915, Walker married again: Dora Spencer, an English immigrant teaching at one of the island's schools. They continued to farm Homewood until the mid 1950s, when age and ill-health forced them to join a daughter in the Okanagan.

A headstone was placed in the Quadra Island Cemetery this summer in memory of Dora and Robert Walker, who once owned Homewood Farm (now Camp Homewood).

Though Robert and Dora Walker died and were buried off-island, when descendants learned a few years ago they owned an unused plot in the Quadra Cemetery they decided to erect a headstone in their memory.

It was etched by granddaughter Kluane Bickerton using Vancouver Island marble, through her company Sandscript Designs.

Joy Huntley looked on proudly as her daughter Irene Huntley read from a piece she wrote about her grandparents' lives. Both were community leaders, he as a rural judge and school trustee, and she as a social convener, bringing isolated women and children together. Robert Walker lived to the age of 95, passing on his longevity genes to many of his children, including Joy Huntley, who is now 98. She still has her youthful spunk, humour and charm, and lively memories about growing up on Quadra Island in the 1920s – fending off free-ranging cows that commandeered the island's dirt roads on her daily walk to Heriot Bay School. Joy was the only one of Robert Walker's six children (from both marriages) to remain on Quadra after marrying. She and her husband Don Huntley raised their children here and built Seascope Resort in Gowlland Harbour. Though no descendants now live on the island, it continues to hold a treasured place in their memories.

Irene Huntley's tribute to the Walkers will be placed in the Museum at Campbell River Archives, joining a wealth of material written by various family members over the years.

What To Do When There is Too Much Wood

THIRTY YEARS AGO, salmon stream philosophy was 'a clean stream is a healthy stream'. To that end countless projects during that day focused on removing much of the wood and debris from many salmon rearing streams. Today, current science says the opposite. Trees in the streams provide valuable shelter, shade and insect feed for both spawning and rearing fish of all types. However, there are times where even today there can be too much wood in a stream.

2018 before works began – trees and debris littering the stream with widespread silt accumulations

Drew Creek, here on Quadra Island, was a case in point. In the lower reaches of the stream, adjacent to Heriot Bay Road, many trees from the surrounding mature forest had fallen both in and across the creek. While it wasn't necessarily a bad thing, the trees and their limbs that protruded into the water began to collect small woody debris that flowed through annually during the winter high water events. This accumulating debris slowed the stream flows, and sediments that were also flowing through the area began to collect. The sediments choked the spawning bed gravels in the area where a hundred or more chum salmon like to spawn each year. Salmon gravels need to be clean in order for water to flow through freely and transport oxygen to the incubating eggs.

REALIZING THE SALMON IMPACTS that were occurring in the stream, the Quadra Island Salmon Enhancement Society – with the assistance of several additional local volunteers– have spent portions of the last two summers removing the surplus wood and helping to restore the gravel conditions.

In July 2018 a crew of volunteers began the clean up the stream by removing the accumulated small woody debris and stockpiling it all away from the creek and above the high flow levels.

In July 2019 the main works were carried out. To begin, 10 yards of cleaned spawning gravel were 'high-lined' from a nearby elevated bank into the upper reach of the creek's work area, above where the sediments had collected. These gravels were then spread using an excavator.

The new gravel will not only provide initial increased spawning opportunities further up the stream from the silted-in beds, but will also gradually migrate with the winter freshets down into the other spawning sites.

NEXT, ROTTEN AND SURPLUS TREES

were dragged from the creek utilizing a large logging skidder winch placed adjacent to the creek again above the high water mark.

Some of the existing trees plus additional wood brought to the site were placed in the creek, forming strategically positioned structures that will encourage streambed scour and sediment removal. This work was again done largely with the skidder, winch and blocks.

Additionally, over a dozen root balls were placed in the stream in conjunction with the logs. These will assist in streambed scour and as well provide fish cover. The trees and roots were then bound together with cable and anchored to instream rocks to keep the structures in place during the winter high water periods.

The final touches to the project this fall will be interpretative signage along the west side of the creek on an enhanced trail system.

As with any project of this nature ongoing monitoring, adjusting and maintenance will be carried out by QISES volunteers to help maximize long term benefits to the creek and the fish that use it.

The lower portion of Drew Creek is located on a portion of the We Wai Kai Reserve # 6. QISES would like to thank the First Nation for their support throughout the project and look forward to further partnerships on the creek in the coming years. Funding for the project came from the Campbell River Salmon Foundation and the Pacific Salmon Foundation.
